NEW GENERATION

VINYL FLOORING HAS EVOLVED IN LEAPS AND BOUNDS
SINCE NANNA'S KITCHEN LINO HAD ITS HEYDAY

IN TEXTURAL
FINISHES TO SUIT
EVERY HOMES STYLE

When you think of vinyl flooring, do you get flashbacks to your nanna's 60s era kitchen? It might surprise you to learn that vinyl flooring is still in homes today, but not as you remember it. Modern luxury vinyl tiling (LVT) is stylish, low-maintenance and easy to install, and is a game changer in flooring. In finishes that mimic stone, hardwood or tile, Polyflor LVT ranges such as Camaro, Affinity, Simplay or Expona Domestic provide a pleasing sensation of warmth underfoot, and a cushioned sensation that cuts down foot traffic noise. Because of this, it's a great flooring choice for multi-storey homes and apartments.

EASY LIVING

Easy to maintain and stain resistant, Polyflor LVT is so easy to live with. And reassuringly, all of Polyflor's LVT ranges come with BCA approved fire and slip ratings for your peace of mind, especially with little ones around. The tiles are tough and hard wearing, so they're ideal for homes with kids and pets coming and going. And should an accident happen, they're easy to replace as they come in individual tile packs so there's no need for rolls, patching or sanding. Stylish, versatile and durable, the new generation of vinyl is an ideal flooring choice to enhance every home.

"Our flooring is simply the best option for so many reasons. It is extremely quiet underfoot, easy to install and completely affordable."
